

My Friend!
 The TIMES won't be the first to have shot a cannon on So. or San Pablo Sunday eve. without a single casualty. Everyone was glued to his television set.

NOT MUCH response to the news of a Newcomers club so far. You're interested, fill in the blank in today's paper. This may be the last you hear about it.

WICK McSHEEHY has been elected chairman of a Harvest Party to be sponsored by the Club Council at the Veterans Memorial building Saturday night, Oct. 11. Proceeds will be for Albany's Christmas decorations. Save the date.

LADY called the other day after someone a large garden free on Talbot just off Main. It's sunny all day and she loves almost anything will grow there. Interested? Drop a card to the Times.

TERESA WISENOR of Albany went to the National Women's Bowling tournament in San Jose to bowl in the singles and doubles. As long as she was there, she put her name on a list of names available for teams which might be short. A team from Illinois selected her and another strange bowler to join them, wound up in second place, behind Champ Helen Dugan. In the singles and doubles, Theresa was in the way with an average of 178.

SACRAMENTO couple is in a heap of trouble with the Internal Revenue Service for attempting to evade 1964 income taxes by reporting $11,000 won on a 50 tickets at Harrah's club, Nov. 23, 1964. Suppose the rest of the news release from the IRS to serve as a warning. Consider yourself warned.

EUGENE C. JOHNSTON of Albany submits additional mixed-up applications: People who live in houses should not throw away their trash. Confucius said, Man with blue thumb good gardener—I never drink unless I am with friends. People who live in stone houses should not wear glass. As a final suggestion, she says people who want to stop smoking should carry wet tissues.

LOTIE MOODY SANDFORD is feeling mad. She had a bump-out of plums in her back yard and she was out one day, when several adults with containers came in and stripped the tree. She wouldn't mind sharing, but they didn't leave her enough to eat or make jelly.

RENE MacWILLIAMS at the Chamber of Commerce office is looking for names for names of organizations so she can complete a mimeographed list to available there. Contact her at 1240 Solano or 525-1771.

Ranold Kennedy Obtains Support of Homeowners

The Albany Homeowners and Taxpayers' Association has come out in opposition to section 20751.1 of Assembly Bill 272, under which school districts, after July 1, 1971, will be able to jack up taxes without first having to seek voter approval at override elections.

The organization, after meeting last week with Ranold J. Kennedy of Penryn, who is spearheading the statewide drive to obtain 325,000 signatures and place the measure on next June's primary ballot, has agreed to circulate petitions in the Albany area.

They will be coordinated by Mrs. Earl Jones of Oakland, Kennedy's Alameda County chairman. Mrs. Jones' telephone number is 261-1214.

The following statement was delivered by Kennedy at the meeting:

"The State Assembly, in a desperate move to stop the action of the people of California, in their attempt to repeal section 20751.1 of the Education Code, which would have given school boards throughout the state, power to set their own tax rates without voter approval in 1971, has passed AB 272, which moves the effective date to 1973. The Assembly, by this action, has again shown their defiance to the will of the people, who have demanded that this section be repealed, not extended. It seems that the thousands of letters written by the voters to their elected representatives on this subject have little effect when placed beside the wants of the special interest lobby of the California Teachers Association.

"The bill now goes to the Senate. It will be interesting to see where their allegiance lies. "We must not be led down the primrose path believing that by this action the Legislature is looking out for the wants and needs of the harassed property owner, far from it. Next year is an election year, and this is a move which is designed to lull the voter into complacency. "The time is now, to re-assess the ascendancy of the people over the government, and we should be determined to force our legislative bodies to produce, create and enact a reasonably equitable tax system in California, or we should exert maximum efforts to get new elected bodies that will. For these reasons, our determination should be direct, blunt and hardnosed. This should not be taken as a threat, but as a promise. And by 1970, we should have the political muscle to make this promise good.

"A telephone poll on this issue disclosed that 90 per cent of the people did not know what the Legislature had done to them, and could not believe it had been done, and that 99 per cent of those to whom it was explained expressed shocked indignation that it had been done, and are for immediate repeal. "So despite a clear prognosis of an impending catastrophe, the Legislature proceeds to make the situation far worse for the property taxpayers. This in face of a festering tax revolt and the conviction of thousands of people that the intention and purpose of the sitting political establishment is to use property tax as a method to wipe the property taxpayer out altogether. "With the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court striking down the residency requirements of the states as illegal for welfare assistance we should not fail to understand that the school provision 20751.1 plus the new welfare crisis could raise the property tax rates from $10 to $20, to $30 per hundred of assessed valuation. These figures are freely being predicted now by tax authorities and by members of the Legislature.

"Section 20751.1 only makes property subject to its discriminatory provisions. The people who own property in California, a minority of 39 per cent, already pay 80 per cent of all California taxes. How could the Legislature not know that the total assessed value of all the tax paying property in California is only 15 per cent of the state's wealth, and that this base is reduced every day by freeways, roads, schools, parks, government projects and church holdings that go off the tax rolls, and that as government costs are expanding every day, we have a small and contracting tax base from which increasing tax revenues are trying to be squeezed. "We should not be satisfied to let this tax-a-nostra time bomb repose and incubate in the law until 1971, or as proposed, 1973. We must wipe it out now."

TODD BACHMAN, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bachman of 1134 Masonic Ave., Albany, was awarded his Eagle Scout badge at the June 14 Court of Honor held by Troop 19 at Camp Hermis. Todd has two older brothers who have each received their Eagle awards through Troop 19. Ken was awarded his Eagle in 1962 and Mark in 1964. A younger brother, Gregg, is also active in Troop 19 working toward his Star rank. A sister, Alain, is a member of Junior Girl Scout Troop 1440. Todd will be a senior at Albany High next fall. He is again following in his brothers' footsteps by currently attending the 7th National Jamboree being held at Faragut State Park in Idaho. Ken attended the 5th National in Colorado Springs, Colo., and Mark attended the 6th National at Valley Forge, Pa.

Albany Officials Attend BCDC Hearings in Capitol

City Councilmen Monday night discussed plans to attend the Senate Finance committee hearing on BCDC legislation in Sacramento last night.

Among new developments was a bill by Senator John Nejedly (R-Walnut Creek), which aims simply at continuing the Bay Conservation and Development Commission in its present form. Also to be considered by the Senate committee was a "strong" anti-bay-fill measure authored by Assemblyman John T. Knox (D-Richmond) and others.

Mayor Richard Clark said Monday night that there has been an attempt to introduce an amendment to the "strong" bill, AB 2057, which would define "project" as a program undertaken prior to Sept. 17, 1965, and a specific plan prior to July 9, 1969. This would allow Albany to continue with its waterfront development as planned.

Clark said it takes aggressiveness and considered judgement to make a project such as the Albany waterfront succeed, adding, "As one of the councilmen said earlier tonight, he didn't think they'd ever get to the moon."

In other action Monday, Council voted to continue with present policy regarding the preliminary budget, which is frequently changed and merely a working budget, and not have copies in the library as suggested by George Ferrell of 944 Solano Ave.

Filed were communications from Cliff Denney of 846 Santa Fe Ave., in reference to the Kathleen Zahn letter, from Police Chief Ralph Jensen advising that Sgt. Glenn Thompson has been appointed Juvenile Officer as of July 16, and from California State Automobile association, advising that Albany has earned a Pedestrian Safety Citation for 1968, and the plaque will be delivered later.

Referred to the Park and Recreation department were communications from Mrs. Delores Jones requesting adoption of a Youth Employment Program and from Helen Greer of 1010 Ordway asking to save a destructive but beautiful tree in front of her home.

A resolution, requested by Albany Library Board, was approved urging representatives in Washington to support funding for library construction and services.

Other resolutions appointed Melvin E. Boyd as probationary inspector No. 1 in Albany Police Department and Councilman George Hein's appointment of George Willbanks to the Beautification and Improvement committee.

Council voted to pay Don Dupin of the Recreation department $250 as an administrator for after-school recreation, to ask the Solano Avenue Beautification and Lighting committee to postpone a meeting scheduled for last night because of the Sacramento hearing.

E. J. Rooney, Superintendent of Parks and Recreation, reported on a recent meeting in which a youth program was discussed. He said they are attempting to set up an advisory board and a year-round employment program for the youth of Albany.

The meeting adjourned at 8:35 p.m.

PACIFIC TELEPHONE HAS ROLE IN APOLLO 11

Communications facilities and personnel in the San Francisco Bay Area are playing an important part in the world's most exciting space exploit, the Apollo 11 mission.

Since television coverage of the moon shot is world-wide in scope, the Cmsat East Station at Jamesburg, near Carmel Valley, is participating in the relaying of signals via satellite.

As these television signals join the regular television network systems, they are relayed through the Pacific Telephone Television Operating Center at 333 Grant Avenue, San Francisco, and Oakland's East Bay Hills facility where telephone technicians work around the clock to insure high quality signals.

In addition, Pacific Telephone microwave crews set up a special microwave link between the Television Operating Center in San Francisco and the Lick Observatory atop Mt. Hamilton east of San Jose.

This microwave link carried television news reports of an important scientific mission connected with the moon shot. Astronauts Neil Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin, Jr., placed a reflector on the moon. Scientists at Lick Observatory will aim a laser
